Marley Jaxx

Experts in creating strategically omnipresent content, getting videos to rank on YouTube and Google and using cross-channel video marketing for maximum reach, Jaxx Productions brings next level video social selling to the marketplace.

Working with top dogs like Daymond John, Cristy Code Red, Alex Charfen, Rachel Pedersen, Stephen Larsen, and having worked events with Gary Vaynerchuck, Seth Godin, Randi Zuckerberg, and Robin Sharma - Marley leads her dream team specializing in impact-driven and profit-focused video strategy using The VIP Code.

Waging war against short-term influencers and creating an army of visionary leaders who refuse mediocre, mundane, and average video strategy, Jaxx Productions builds a production team around their movement through omnipresent video assets.

Interested only in massive ROI and extraordinary impact, Marley and her team work to provide support around their private clients so they can focus on what their movement is meant for - changing their family, business, community, and the world.

Known for her hands-off VIP Code methodology, expansive video marketing savvy, and vulnerable storytelling style, Marley brings a wealth and variety of knowledge to any related space.
